| 1                     | 5 Inch   | Stalk Lemongrass              | Bruised |  |
| PREPARATION           |  |                               |         |  |
| OPTION                | This Recipe uses Roasted Garlic for it's rich mellow Garlic Flavor. Using finely minced Garlic instead WILL affect the final Sauce flavor.   |                               |         |  |
| HINTS                 | The combination of Orange and Lime Juices in the Sauce makes a good substitute for the tangier taste of Sour Oranges, a traditional Cuban ingredient that's not always easy to find in this country (unless you happen to live in the Miami area).   |                               |         |  |
| TOOLS                 | 1) Meat Tenderizer Hammer2) Medium Saucepan3) Wire Whisk   |                               |         |  |
| PREP                  | DISH1) Roast the Garlic Head and set it aside.2) Preheat the oven to 400 degrees with a rack just below center.   |                               |         |  |
| PREP                  | Crush (bruise) the stalk of Lemongrass with a meat tenderizing hammer. Discarding the tougher outer sections.  |                               |         |  |
| PREP                  | ROASTED GARLIC: Cut the top off of the Garlic Head so the ends of the Cloves are exposed, place it on a piece of heavy duty aluminum foil and lightly drizzle it with the EVOO. Seal it tightly in the foil and roast until the Cloves are soft, about 40 minutes. Squeeze the Cloves out of the skins and smash them into a paste; you should end up with roughly 1 1/2 tablespoons of Garlic Paste. |                               |         |  |
